GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 28.—The press generally comment at length on the race of yesterday.

The Times, reviewing the contest, says: The inferiority of the Americans was in a most pardonable point, the steering. Their coxswain undoubtedly lost ground, but not enough to account for the distance between the boats at the end of the race. Until the Americans retrieve their defeat, they must acknowledge that our style of rowing is the best. The Americans met with perfectly fair play, and if the Englishmen go to America they will meet with similar treatment. May all our future international struggles be conducted in the same spirit, and whichever side wins may the vanquished have as little reason to feel regret for their defeat.

The News declares the Harvards did not command success, they deserved it, and hopes American yachtmen on the Atlantic may avenge the noble defeat of their countrymen.

The Atlas says the Americans will long remember the chivalric bearing of their opponents, who, though resolved to win, never forgot that the Harvards were foemen worthy of their oars. The strife between New and Old England on the river from which the Pilgrim fathers started, has a historic side, and appeals to the imagination of the youth of both countries. If New England had won, the older country would have shared in the triumph of its descendants. The fates decided otherwise. We are sure the Harvards would sooner be beaten by us than by any other nation on the globe.

The Americans here are perfectly satisfied with respect to the conduct of the race. The general impression is that the Oxfords must now row the Harvards on their own water next year.

The Telegraph says the international boat race was as gallant and good display of manhood as was ever witnessed in the history of rowing. The Americans have lost no honor. Good judges think more highly of the Americans than they did before the race. The Americans hoped for a good race and they had it fair and honest from the start to the finish.

The Post says the excitement in respect to the race exceeded all expectation. The enthusiastic cheering of the Oxford crew was natural. but before and after the race the Americans received as hearty, thorough and well deserved cheers. There could be no mistake in this. Englishmen are so devoted to manly sports that they truly honor the pluck and determination of sustaining such an ordeal as was witnessed yesterday. If the English row the Americans on their own waters, they will meet a similar reception. The same blood animates both nations and such rivalry is only productive of friendly feeling and tends to banish sentiments that never should be permitted between nations so nearly allied. In this light the race may be of more importance than a mere trial of individual skill, strength and endurance. The Post estimates the number of people who witnessed the race at all points at fully one million.

The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon has the following remarks on the race: To have beaten men whose pluck carried them three thousand miles to measure oars with an English University, whose patience surmounted innumerable difficulties and disappointments in boat building, whose endurance is almost unparalelled, is for Oxford one of those happy triumphs in which there is peculiar honor to the victor, without humiliation to the vanquished.

It is rumored to-day that one of the first questions which will be brought up in the next session of Parliament will be the consideration of the unconditional release of Fenians, without exception. It is said that in the face of the French amnesty, the Government is not disposed to offer any very strong opposition, if the subject is properly and influentially supported.

SPAIN.

MADRID, August 28. — Escalante is dead. There is much speculation here as to Gen. Prim's journey to Paris. The supposed object is to correct Olazaga's deficiencies and to confer with Napoleon on the situation.

The Count of Cheste has been restored to his rank and pay on condition that he go to the Canaries. He gave his parole to remain at Puerto Real till a vessel was ready, but he broke his parole and fled to France, whereby he forfeited rank and pay.

The Episco of to-day says the most probable candidate for the Spanish throne is Augustus of Portugal.

There will be no further trials by the Council of War for conspiracy against the life of General Prim.

General Carbo has been appointed Lieutenant Governor of Cuba.

A desperate conspiracy was discovered on board the U. S. Frigate Sabire, now lying in the port of Cherbourg. Some of the crew, to revenge themselves on the officers, attempted to set fire to the powder magazine and blow up the ship. They had proceeded so far as to light a fuse connecting with the magazine, when the plot was frustrated by a cabin boy who discovered the burning fuse. It was found that twenty-two sailors were implicated in the plot and they were put in irons. Seven have since been condemned to death and hanged at the yard arm.

Governor Senter Desired to Call an Extra Session of the Old Legislature—Memorial to Congress on the Recent Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, August 28.—The Republican meeting, mentioned in yesterday's dispatch, reassembled to-day, Hon. John Trimble in the chair. Resolutions were adopted calling upon Governor Senter to call an extra session of the old or existing Legislature for the purpose of taking action upon the Fifteenth Amendment, there being no question in the opinion of the meeting of the constitutional election and validity of that body. These resolutions will be submitted to Gov. Senter immediately, in a written note, by Horace Maynard, Chairman of a Committee appointed by the meeting.

A committee of eight, one from each Congressional District, was appointed to prepare and did prepare and report a memorial to the people of the State and to Congress, setting forth briefly and comprehensively the history of the late canvass and election, showing the stupendous frauds perpetrated, and pronouncing the election a revolution under the forms of a popular election, protesting against and denying the validity, &c. The memorial covers about eighteen pages of foolscap and will be published and circulated extensively throughout the State as soon as possible. The memorial does not ask for Congressional or Federal intervention.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, August 28.—During last night the fire-proof safe in the office of the Receiver of Taxes was entered by burglars, who cut the safe open and carried off twenty-five thousand dollars in money, and about twenty-five thousand in checks. The safe was enclosed in a brick vault, which the burglars had to cut through sufficiently to get inside and operate on the safe. In their hurried flight they dropped four hundred dollars in money, and over two thousand dollars in checks. The scene of the burglary is within a stone's throw of the Mayor's office and the central station and police and detective head-quarters.

The amount stolen is reported at $40,000, of which $25,000 was in checks, drafts, &c. As the law requires tax receivers to make daily deposits, it is supposed the securities of the receiver will have to pay for the loss.

Injunction in the Lake Front Case—Fast Trains—Heavy Storm—Railroad Casualty—Damage by Lightning.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, August 28.—Judge Drummond of the U. S. District Court, in this city, to-day rendered a decision granting an injunction in the Lake Front case. The injunction restrains the city of Chicago from giving a deed of the sale of the lake front property proposed to be purchased by the Illinois Central Railroad and other railroad corporations for depot grounds in front of the city, in accordance with a provision of the act of the State Legislature, known as "the Lake Front Bill." The Court declares that the land in question, having been ceded to the city by the U. S. Government with the specific condition that it should be devoted to public park purposes only, it cannot be sold and occupied by a railroad depot. The case will no doubt ultimately have to be decided by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The fast trains between this city and New York will commence running on Monday. The time between the two cities will be thirty hours.

The heaviest storm of the season occurred in Central Iowa last night and has resulted in much damage.

A freight train on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad ran on a small bridge near Newton, Iowa, when the bridge gave way, precipitating the locomotive and two cars into the water. ST. LOUIS.

Horrible Murder and Suicide—Change of Headquarters—The Weather—Fire Department Display—Railroad Opening.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, August 28.—A most horrible murder and suicide were committed in East St. Louis this morning. A man named Casper Waltz, who came from Baltimore about a year ago, attempted to kill his stepson, Nicholas Lutz, twenty years old, by striking him on the head with a hatchet, but the weapon glanced and Nicholas escaped and ran for a policeman. When they returned they found Mrs. Waltz lying on the floor with her head literally chopped to pieces. After committing the deed, Waltz walked to the crossing of several railroad tracks, near by, on one of which a coal train was approaching. When the locomotive and one car of the train had passed him, he threw back his coat, opened his shirt collar and deliberately flung himself across the rail between two cars, and the remainder of the train passed over his neck, completely cutting his head off. Waltz was a hard drinker and drank a pint of whisky before breakfast; he procured another, when his stepson remonstrated with him, which doubtless lead to the assault, although it was not made until some hours later.

The Topeka Conservative says General Schofield's headquarters of the Department of the Missouri will be removed from Fort Leavenworth to St. Louis the latter part of September.

The weather here changed suddenly about five o'clock this morning, when a violent wind and rain set in, which continued nearly all the forenoon, cooling the atmosphere and refreshing humanity most gratefully. The highest point the mercury reached to-day was 86. The heated term is believed to be broken at last and some little pleasure in living may be realized during the remainder of the summer. A rain set in at 10:30, which promises to last some hours.

ST. LOUIS, August 29.—The latest accounts of the horrible affair in East St. Louis yesterday, reported last night, are that Mrs. Waltz is still alive, but cannot live more than one or two days. Her face is terribly chopped and her skull fractured so that the brain oozes from the gaping wound.

Captain Shaw, Chief of the London Fire Brigade, made a hasty visit here today. He was shown all the notable places in and around St. Louis, and at five o'clock this P. M. an alarm was struck to show the working of the Fire Department. In three minutes from the time of the alarm three engines were on the spot with streams playing. The hook and ladder truck was also present. Captain Shaw expressed great surprise at the rapidity of movement shown and the general efficiency of the department, and said he had seen nothing like it. He left for Chicago at seven o'clock, very much pleased with St. Louis.

The opening of the new St. Louis and Chicago route via. Vandalia and Terre Haute road to Effingham, thence to the Illinois Central, was formally celebrated yesterday by an excursion of a large party of merchants and business men of this city to Highland, about twenty miles from here. Two passenger and two freight trains each way daily will run on the route hereafter.

The City Marshal of St. Charles, Mo., arrived here yesterday with a man who answers the description of the murderer of William Lake, the circus proprietor. He will be taken to Granby, Miss., for identification.

The rain of last evening continued until midnight. To-day has been clear and cloudy at intervals, and quite comfortable. The mercury at noon marked only 76, and at three o'clock P. M. 80. The heated term is passed.

The President at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, August 28. — President Grant and family arrived here this afternoon by special train from Rutland. Arrangements had been made to receive him, and a salute was to have been fired, but the rain, which fell in torrents all the evening, prevented it. A large crowd at the depot received him with cheers. He was taken to the Union Hotel, where Hon. Chas. S. Lester, of the local committee, made an address of welcome, to which the President replied briefly, and then retired to the Cottage reserved for him.

The President leaves for Washington on Monday morning, but his family will remain here. The President will return during the latter part of the week to stay until the middle of September. He intends visiting Utica next week for a day or two, returning here to attend the county fair on the 8th, 9th and 10th.

POUGHKEEPSIE, August 29.—President Grant and party will leave Saratoga at ten o'clock to-morrow morning on a special train for New York, via. the Hudson River Railroad, and will reach the metropolis at four o'clock. The train will stop at Garrisons to take Hon. Hamilton Fish on board.

Base Ball at Louisville.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, August 28.—An interesting game of base ball between the Union Club (Haymakers) of Lansingburg,) N. Y., and the Kentucky Club, of Louisville, took place this afternoon. The game was called at 3:45, the Kentuckys taking the bat, and resulted in a victory for the Haymakers. The following is the score:

Haymakers.....5 0 6 2 2 0 5 6 2 5—31
Kentuckys.....0 2 2 2 2 0 3 0 0—11

A marked feature in the game was the harmony and good feeling which prevailed throughout. The fair reputation of the Eagle Club of this city has been somewhat moistened by their stubborn refusal to permit the game being played upon their grounds.

Mr. Haughton, attache of the Cincinnati Enquirer, got in a car of a hot air balloon yesterday to go up with the æronaut. The balloon, by mistake, was let go with Haughton alone in it. When about a thousand feet high it collapsed and came down among the houses, landing Mr. Haughton, without injury, in an alley.

Wm. Howard, the fourth man charged with the murder of Kirby, Wednesday, was arrested in the city yesterday.

COLLIERY CASUALTY.

Fire Damp Explosion—Great Excitement.

NEW YORK, August 29.—A special dispatch from Wilkesbarre, Pa., dated at midnight Saturday night, states that late in the afternoon a fire broke out in the Pine Ridge colliery, two miles and a half above that place. The fire caught at the entrance of the mine and burned with fearful rapidity. The wildest excitement prevailed, as thirty men were at the bottom of the mine. The fire originated from an explosion of fire damp. About one year and a half ago this mine took fire and burned furiously for several weeks, but was finally extinguished by being smothered out. The Superintendent of the mine reached Wilkesbarre at 11 P. M., and reported that all the men were rescued alive. The mine is still burning in the vein, but the men having been rescued it will now be smothered out.

Beaver Falls—Temperance Meeting.

NEW BRIGHTON, August 28, 1869.

A temperance meeting was held in the M. E. Church at Beaver Falls last night under the auspices of the New Brighton Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars, for the purpose of trying to effect an organization, and establish a Lodge in that place, which, as yet, has no licensed liquor sellers, but has a brewery, and many private veinless tipplers, and even drunkards.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. S. F. Crowther, closing with an earnest appeal to the people to organize and go to work to do battle against King Alcohol

The result was forty three persons gave. their names as charter members. A few of these were Good Templars, the remainder being new recruits, and took the Good Templar's pledge in the presence of the audience. Officers were then nominated and elected, and will be installed on Monday night, the 30th inst.

There is a good work to be done in this new and enterprising town, and we wish this new lodge abundant success.

By request of the meeting, Rev. Crowther will lecture again in the same place in three weeks from last night, which will be Friday night, September 17th at 7½ o'clock. S.

The Allegheny Schools.

The public schools of Allegheny will open for the ensuing school year on Monday next. During vacation the buildings have been thoroughly renovated and prepared for occupancy. The hall of the new building, in the Fourth ward, has been supplied with settees and other furniture, at a cost of between two and three hundred dollars. No material changes have been made in the other buildings. The magnificent edifice for the Fifth ward, it is expected, will be ready for occupancy at the appointed time for the opening, although it will be sometime yet before the structure will be entirely completed. The Directors contemplate formally opening or dedicating the building next Thursday with a reunion of the friends of education hereabouts. The affair promises to be an exceedingly interesting and enjoyable one.

Cultivation of the Ramie Plant.

A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writing from Satartia, Miss., says that the ramie plant is growing in favor there, and that it will eventually supercede cotton in all the rich bottom lands subject to periodical overflow in that latitude. With Chinese labor cultivating the ramie, these lands will yield $300 per acre. After the first year it requires no cultivation, and it so completely shades the ground that neither grass nor weeds can grow near it. After the first year the only labor it requires is that of harvesting and threshing out, the first being done with a mowing maching, and the last by means of the patent ramie cleaner. The writer claims that as soon as this plant gets to be fully appreciated, as soon it will be, the empire of King Cotton will pass away, and that truly regal and wonderful plant, the ramie, will wield the sceptre and clothe the world. As an article of apparel it will become as common to ladies of moderate means as silks are now among the wealthy.

CORA MOWATT, who is writing foreign letters for the San Francisco Chronicle, tells a story of a bridal pair, making the tour of Switzerland, who recently came to a crowded hotel, and were informed by the landlord that there was one unoccupied room in the house, the bath-room, and that a couple of beds might be made in the two baths which it contained. The youthful couple were well pleased to secure even this shelter, after a fatiguing journey, and retired to rest. An hour or two later the stillness of the night was suddenly broken by shrieks of distress issuing from the bath-room. The lady, wishing to summon a servant, had pulled what she presumed was a bell-rope suspended over her bed in the bath, when, suddenly, she was inundated by a shower of cold water. The gentleman, roused by her cries, and not quite comprehending the position, pulled a supposed bell-rope which he felt dangling over his bath-bed to bring him a domestic, but brought, instead, a shower of hot water over himself. It was quite dark, and neither bride nor bridegroom could grope their way to the door. By the time succor came they were up to their knees in water.

A GENTLEMAN who has tried it, and is willing to swear that it is just as he says, inform us that the best fly-killer in the world is a tumbler of whisky, sugar and water. They will gather about it in swarms, drink it speedily, and get drunk instantly, tumble in head over heels immediately, and die in a jiffy. Our informant states this will kill the pests ten times quicker than the lightning fly-killer, and ten times as many of them as the old-fashioned trap of molasses and water.

THERE is prospect of war between the principal trunk lines about railway fares, and some agents are predicting that ten dollars will be the rate from New York to Chicago, and proportionally to other points.

—The Belletristische Journal, a German paper in New York, objects to having an expensive banquet as the finale to the Humboldt Festival, and suggests a great torchlight procession instead. The objection urged against the banquet is that the cost of the tickets ($5) necessarily renders it an exclusive affair and not a "popular festival." The umpire was a decidedly one sided gentleman, and the Haymakers, finding that no amount of good play would give them a chance, left the ground in disgust. They were followed to their hotel by a hooting, threatening crowd, and were only protected from violence by the police; yet the Cincinnatians were very indignant when it became understood that the Haymakers had telegraphed home that they were besieged by a mob in their own hotel. It is said that the Red Stockings should have the brilliancy of their recent tour so smutched by the conduct of their townsmen.

Heavy Forgery.

On Wednesday of last week James Loveday, of Newburg, late superintendent of the Ætna Iron and Nail Company, suddenly disappeared and nothing has since been learned of his whereabouts. It has been ascertained within the past few days that he has "feathered his nest," by perpetrating forgeries to a large amount, and by getting into his possession drafts, checks and other papers belonging to the company, the whole amounting, it is believed, to nearly $30,000. It is impossible as yet to ascertain the precise sum, as new revelations are constantly being made, but it is thought that the total of his "eccentricities" will reach the above amount.

Mr. Loveday is about thirty years of age, and has a wife and three children living in Newburg, whom he left without the slightest intimation of his intentions. He had the reputation of being a skillful, practical manager, and when the Ætna works were built he was given the position of superintendent. The company suspended operations a short time ago, and it is now claimed that the want of success was due in a great measure to his bad management.

One of the principal losers by the forged paper is Mr. C. D. Woodbridge, of Newburg, who discounted notes for Loveday, to the amount of about $8,000. To these notes the name of Mr. David I. Jones, of the firm of Stone, Chisholm & Jones, had been forged. Supposing the signature to be genuine, they were taken by Woodbridge, without suspicion, as the name of Mr. Jones was perfectly good. Mr. Loveday also had in his possession a number of drafts on Europe, belonging to Welshmen, who had been employed by the company, under him, and these he took with him, causing serious losses to those men.

It is thought by some that Loveday is trying to make his way to England, of which country he is a native. Every possible effort is being made to intercept him, but as yet no trace of the fugitive has been obtained.—Cleveland Herald.

THE surveys of the East river bridge are completed, and the line of the bridge and approaches are all located. The caissons upon which the towers are to rest are to be constructed of yellow pine, and 800,000 square feet will be required to complete the work. The timber has been purchased and is now lying at Red Hook. In consequence of the immense height to which the towers will be carried, nearly three years will elapse before they will be ready for the cables to be constructed across the river.

GETTYSBURG.

The Re-union Over—The Katalysine Spring—Relic Hunters—The Cemetery—The Town Itself, &c., &c.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GETTYSBURG, Aug. 27th 1869.

The re-union of officers of the Union army who figured in the great battle of Gettysburg is over and the town is once more left to enjoy its natural quietness and repose. As your correspondent has previously remarked the occasion was a success despite the fact that many of the leading officers of the Union army and all but one of the Confederate forces failed to put in an appearance. The simple objects in view were to fix the lines of battle, designate the positions of the contending forces and to mark the spots associated with important historic events, and all these were well and faithfully accomplished. The representatives of the army present were all good and true soldiers and did most of the severe fighting and were abundantly qualified for the task of drawing the needed lines. Some little diffiiculty was experienced in several instances in fixing the stakes, as six years of time wrought many changes im the surroundings of the place. Fences had been torn down, temporary breastworks tumbled, strips of woods cleared and other material alterations of the field had occurred. However, order was brought out of chaos, and, by passing from stake to stake and reading their legibly drawn inscriptions and dates, the peaceful visitor will have little trouble in fixing in his mind's eye the panorama of the battle.

The Gettysburg Katalysine Spring Hotel Company certainly reaped a rich harvest out of the occasion, but their charges were by no means unreasonable or extravagant considering the comforts and conveniences placed at the disposal of the guests. The hotel is a magnificent structure, entirely new and having luxurious accommodations for three hundred guests. It is owned by a company, who, taking advantage of the medicinal qualities of the celebrated Katalysine spring, which is within a stone throw of the building, have established a summer resorte, where, aside from the pure and bracing air, the guests have the advantage of the curative water, which is said to be a general panacea for nearly every disease to which human flesh is heir. The main attraction to Pittsburghers, is the presence of our genial friend Mr. Harry Bell, of your city, in the chief clerk's office, who is the right man in the right place, having all the essential qualifications for a first-class and efficient presiding officer over that department. The general manager, Mr. Hoppe, formerly of Williamsport, is an experienced hotel proprietor, and does all in his power to secure the pleasure and enjoyment of his guests. A street railway, and about as bad a piece of civil engineering as we have ever noticed, connects the hotel with the town. Let no reader visit this place without making his headquarters at the Spring's Hotel as he will never regret so doing.

Six years ago, when your correspondent was first over the battle field, he could have gathered bullets and shells and general implements of warfare by the bushel, but now not a thing remains for the gratification of the trophy hunter's curiosity, save sticks and stones. The people about the town, as well as the thousands of pilgrims who have journeyed hither, have been active gatherers, and left the historic field destitute of odd trifles. However, bringing a relic home from Gettysburg is about equivalent to carrying a bottle of water away from the sea shore to remember thereby the great ocean.

The Cemetery, where are buried so many thousands of the sleeping heroes of the Union Army, is as pretty a city of the dead as we have ever noticed. It contains few very expensive or beautiful monuments. The grounds are laid out with exquisite good taste, and the soldiers graves are arranged in circles, each State separate. A gray sunken stone marks the spot of a grave, and in most instances the mournful word "unknown" is the only epitaph. The battle monument is not yet finished, but enough is up to enable one to form some estimate of what it will be when completed. It is of admirable design, and has been chiseled in an elegant and artistic manner.

The war was a God-send in more respects than one to Gettysburg. An old, quiet settlement of Pennsylvania Dutch, it never had much life or animation, and but for the grand struggle of the rebellion, would hardly have found a place in history, except perhaps through the achievments of the ripe scholars who have passed through the excellent colleges it contains. Since the war the town has had new life infused into it and is going ahead at a respectable pace. It is the heart of a great agricultural region and contains considerable solid wealth. The people are intelligent and hospitable and by no means warlike as many might suppose they were left by the rebellion.

In my last dispatch I inadvertently omitted the names of the brave Col. L. B. Duff, who lost a leg in the war, and Maj. Paxton among the Pittsburghers here. They both were in the service at Gettysburgh and acted their parts well and faithfully. Many of those called hither by the occasion will put in a few weeks of pleasure and idleness at the Springs, but the great majority have settled their bills with the host and moved homewards, carrying with them pleasant recollections of the grand re-union. H.

A CORRESPONDENT at Saratoga tells of the arrival of the characteristic "pretty man" at that place. The "pretty man" has come to Saratoga. He parts his hair in the middle, wears a moustache, calls himself "Colonel," "Major," or "Dr.," and devotes his time principally to the management of his ambrosial locks, which he, of course, wears long. We can endure a flirt, a coquette, or a fashionable woman; but from the "pretty man" good Lord deliver us! We saw him enter a hop at one of the principal hotels the other night. He took a front seat, glanced down at himself, run his right hand twelve times through his "ambrosials," pushing them back of his ears, and bestowing an encouraging pat on them each time. He then, after the manner, of affected males (we mean males affected with few brains), pulled one cherished tuft down over his "marble brow," to give himself a negligent air, felt of his necktie, looked at his feet, fondled his moustache and glanced sternly across his right shoulder at the young lady near him. We sat and trembled, expecting to see the young lady drop like a sparrow into the arms of this serpent-charmer. But she didn't. She only hitched her chair further away from him.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instanees, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 3 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

The oil market has been very sensitive throughout the week, and while there has been no essential change in prices, there has been a larger volume of business in the aggregate, and at the close the feeling is rather stronger than it was at the opening of the week. If the advices to-day are correct, Antwerp has touched the highest point it has reached for some time, though, strange as it may seem, the advance there, as yet, has had no influence here, except, perhaps, to create a strange feeling, as prices are no better to-day than they were yesterday. The policy of New York seems to be to keep prices down, and in order to accomplish this purpose operators there are selling short at remarkably low figures; thus far they have been successful in carrying out their programme, but how long it will continue so, time alone will develop.

Much has been said during the past week in regard to refiners closing their works until such time as a margin could be secured, but, as noted in our last report, there is not that unanimity in regard to the matter as it was supposed there would be when it was first broached. A movement of this kind, in order to insure success, should be general, and this it is found impossible to attain at present. Some of our refiners, it seems, have sold ahead for several months, and have the crude bought to make it, and consequently they are not inclined to close up with their business in this unfinished condition. Others, again, are hopeful that the market will, of itself, assume a better shape by-and-by, and when an improvement does take place, they want to be in condition to take advantage of it. We are assured, however, that a number of the most prominent establishments have already suspended, both here and at Cleveland, and that others contemplate, within a few days, pursuing a similar course.

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto, I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose a few inches yesterday under the influence of the recent showers, but the rise does not, nor is it likely to amount to anything. The weather, yesterday, was cloudy and clear at short intervals, though cooler than it was on Saturday.

—Business is now enirely suspended at the landing, and is likely to continue so for some time. There are many who believe that as during the Spring and Summer there was an unusal amount of rain, that the Fall will be characterized by drought.

—Capt. Tom. Pol is running the Nick Wall, between St. Louis and Lexington.

—Captain H. L. Lee has declined to name his new Red River packet, the Gladiola, instead of Bright Star, as was originally intended.

—Dan. Rice has purchased the steamer Will. S. Hays for $12,000. The steamer will be used to transport his circus down the Mississippi and up the Ohio.

—The Charleston passed by Louisville the other day, en route, it is said, for Pittsburgh. It is not likely, however, that she will reach here until there is a rise.

—A number of planters in Arkansas, in conjunction with a few Memphis merchants, are about to organize a new packet line for the Arkansas trade, making semi-weekly trips. The arrangements are nearly perfected.

—A dispatch from Benton announces the safe arrival at that place of the passengers by the Admiral Farragut—numbering 75 in all. They made the trip overland from Cow Island, escaping the surveillance of the numerous Indians who have been on the war path near and along the Missouri.

—A Louisville telegram says: The pilots of the Strader report 4 feet of water over Portland and all the bars in the Lower Ohio. They also report the Camelia, Ann and Minneola over Flint Island, but the Mary Davage is aground there with a barge of ore, and the Quickstep aground at Shawneetown Bar. The Strader will lay up for the present at Shippingsport.

—There will be a meeting of pilots and engineers of this city some time next week, we understand, to take measures to reduce the amount of license now paid ($10 annually) to the original sum—$10 for first issue of license and $1 for each annual renewal. Already the pilots and engineers of St. Louis have taken the proper steps in the matter, and have forwarded a petition here for signatures, and nearly every pilot and engineer in the city has signed it. This petition, after receiving all the signatures to be obtained in Pittsburgh, Louisville and other places, goes to Congress next session.

—On Sunday, the 8th, an ox train, laden with the Flirt's freight, from Tabor Island, bound to Benton, was attacked by Indians, said to number one hundred and fifty. Fortunately the teamsters were well armed with breechloaders, and shot-guns, which they at once let loose, and the Indians beat a hasty retreat. But no sooner were they out of range than they commenced circling round the train and built up breastworks of rocks, from behind which they opened fire, and in a short time had killed and wounded nearly all the cattle, and riddled the wagons. Captain Frank Bedert, commander of the Flirt, acted with the teamsters. The party of whites was rescued by the timely arrival of another train, and Frank's elegant scalp is still in the right place.—St. Louis Democrat.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 55f.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 88⅜.

GOLD closed in New York on Saturday at 134½.

THE total vote of Tennessee, with three counties to hear from, was 119,415 for Senter and 53,774 for Stokes—majority for the former 65,641.

THE COAL-MINERS of Luzerne have abandoned their demand for the "basis," accepting a specific offer of advanced wages, and go to work to-day. This ends the long strike, which has cost hundreds of thousands of dollars and much individual suffering.

MR. PACKER's very particular friend Klotz was beaten for the Senatorial nomination in his own county of Carbon, the other day, the anti-Packer competitor securing the nomination. Evidently, Mr. PACKER would have more popularity and influence at home, if he would contribute something to the county taxes, like other honest citizens.

THE first completed span of the new Louisville bridge across the Ohio is three hundred and seventy feet in length. This is reported as the longest truss-span in the country, but it proves to be entirely practicable, and its successful adoption refutes the arguments of the advocates of short-span bridges at other points across this important navigable stream.

THE ROSECRANS LETTER creates the political sensation of the day. Since the sensation is altogether at the expense of that old fossilized partisanship which Messrs. Pendleton and Packer faithfully represent, but which the shrewder politicians of the party on all sides are candidly deploring, it does not surprise us to learn that this very remarkable document was, for more than a week, in the possession of the State Committee before they could screw up their courage to permit its publication.

IT is understood that the Packer corruption-fund is not entrusted, as has been the custom with the sinews of former campaigns, to the chairman of the opposition committee, one Mutchler, whom nobody out of his own county knows anything about, but the funds have been put in the hands of Mr. Wallace, the coffee-pot strategist, by the special desire of the candidate. It seems that this was the only way in which it was possible to compromise a bitter dispute among the greedy "pinchers" of the Democracy.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE continues to unite in himself, the ambition of a Danton, the principles of a Machiavielli the fine grace of a Talleyrand, and, of late, the marvelous astuteness of a Binckley. To a friend in St. Louis, he writes (for publication) modestly declaring: "I am out of all future political contests, and no one need be jealous of me hereafter." In other words he gives fair notice to the American public that he is already up to his ears in political intrigues, to force by the aid of a combined Southern influence, his own Presidential nomination upon the Democracy in 1872.

REPUBLICAN RULE in Tennessee, since the close of the war, has done much to perfect the common-school system of the State. The sum spent for public education has been doubled within the ten years past, the white population showing, even in excess of their numerical proportion, in the benefits of the later policy. The need for still more radical improvements in the work of popular instruction, viewed as to its influence upon public morality, is shown by a glance at the present cost of the repression of crime in the State; the city of Memphis pays three times as much for police purposes as for her common schools, the proportion in Northern cities like Cincinnati and Chicago being nearly two to one the other way.

REUNION OF THE SOUTHERN REPUBLICANS.

We observe gratifying indications that the spirit of dissension has run its complete course among the Southern friends of General GRANT. The movement seems to be simultaneous in all directions, for closing up the ranks which have been rent by schisms with such unfortunate results, and for repairing as far as possible the mischiefs which a needless division has caused. In Virginia it is now proposed to fuse the existing committees, by taking five members from each, to constitute one "Grant Republican Committee" of the State. The resignations of enough of the disqualified members are to be received, to secure the election of others, who, with the members already qualified, shall make a quorum of the Legislature. This body will then meet, pass the XVth Article, elect U. S. Senators and adjourn until Congress meets and approves the new Constitution. This very properly excludes the idea, either that seats shall be given to the unsuccessful competitors of these disqualified members, or that all proceedings shall be suspended until after December. The effect of this proposition will be to reconcile all differences among the real friends of the Administration, to rally to the support of Governor WALKER—whose sound Republicanism has come to be generally conceded—a working majority of the people as well as of the Legislature of Virginia, and to baffle completely the disorganizing schemes of the rebel reactionary politicians. The schism which so lately divided the Republican party in that State would then disappear altogether, leaving it a compact, powerful and predominent element in Virginia politics.

In Mississippi, the last faint trace of dissatisfaction among our friends has disappeared, and every Republican in that State is cordially prepared to accept and support the nominee of the forthcoming Convention, against the combined factions of rebels, Conservatives and Democrats, Dent or no Dent.

In Georgia, the necessities of the situation, reinforced by an opportune and most sensible decision of the highest court of the State affirming the right of colored men to hold office, have brought the contending Republican wings to their senses. That decision has been accepted, as well by the moderate Democrats, whom A. H. Stephens now represents, as by all the friends of the administration. Its tenor is such as to preclude any repetition of the outrage which expelled the colored members from the Legislature, and our friends find herein a decisive reason for compromising their differences upon questions which cannot be made use of as precedents hereafter. The disposition is general to make the best of the present situation, for the purpose of so shaping the future, as to secure an united Republican front. It is found, also, that compromises must be made of personal feelings, with concessions on all sides, or, that Georgia must remain unsettled in her Federal status or be remitted back to the condition of two years since. The rebel proposition to impeach Gov. BULLOCK, if acted upon when the present quasi Legislature again meets, will go still farther to cement the new union among our friends. The signs are therefore all encouraging for the early restoration of Republican harmony, and for the consequent restoration of the Republican control in the State.

Tennessee, which has witnessed the sharpest conflict in the Republican ranks, is to-day very near the end of that strife. It is admitted on all sides that Governor SENTER is pledged to the Chicago platform, and that in all his speeches he committed himself and his supporters to the ratification of the XVth Article. This Article embodies simply the idea of universal suffrage—and that is the doctrine not only of every Republican, friend of Senter or friend of Stokes, in the State, but of an influential wing of the Democracy proper. Such men as Gov. FOOT and such journals as the Memphis Avalanche declare that to be the only living doctrine upon which the Southern Democracy can stand. To such an extent has this truth penetrated the Democratic judgment, that no intelligent and honest politician is now to be found in Tennessee who denies the expediency of ratifying the Article. But unfortunately, the Republican dissensions resulted in the election of so large a majority of ultra reactionists to the Legislature, representing neither the Republican nor the moderately Democratic opinions, that their ratification of the Article is quite out of the question. Hence Gov. SENTER is advised, by a meeting of the Republican leaders from both wings, to convene the old Legislature, whose official term has not yet expired, and so secure the adoption of the Article. This course is approved by the moderate Democrats of Tennessee, and the Governor will concur in it. The popular verdict for universal suffrage will thus be entered up irrevocably. When that is done, and done in that way, the dissensions among our friends will fade away like the mist of the morning, and the party once more united, with universal suffrage secured to the Republic, as it is likely to be by this decisive action of Tennessee, will at once inaugurate the true policy for redeeming the State from the control of a temporarily successful faction.

On the whole this review of the field of Southern politics, in its aspect to-day, affords the brightest encouragement for the hopes of an early restoration of the Republican ascendancy in every quarter where that has been unwisely lost. Conciliation and mutual forbearance can accomplish very much to repair the present mischiefs, and it is really gratifying to observe the universal inclination towards so wise a policy.

CAN NO ONE BOLT BUT PACKER?

We print elsewhere a card from a well-known Democrat of this county, a sincere friend of that distinguished and popular citizen of Allegheny who was not nominated for Governor by his party at Harrisburg. Mr. KERR, after forty years of service in the Democratic ranks, is frank enough to confess that the company of the latter-day Democracy of '69 insults his loyalty and impugns his political standing. He declines, with just indignation, an association with a convention of "bogus Democrats and infidels, Orange ruffians, who know not or care not for anything but money." The Packer corruption-fund, to which this bitter allusion is made, was not, and evidently never could be, large enough to buy his principles and personal self-respect.

Mr. Kerr has the good sense and the courage to express herein his agreement with Gen. Rosecrans and the Democracy of Massachusetts. He is clearly in favor of that "new departure" which is to be substantially the recognition of the old landmarks as known to the Democracy in its purer days, and which would consign the cattle, whose association he now spurns, to some level far below the public contempt.

The card of Mr. Kerr is one of the straws which show how the wind now sits with the fragments of a once powerful and respected party. On all sides, we have equivalent indications of the internal discontent in the opposition ranks. "Orange ruffians, bogus Democrats and infidels" have ruled the organization to its ruin, and the hour has come for the original and sincere, intelligent and honest men, who are no longer able to conceal their disgust or their despair, to draw the line and either shake out or shake off all such damaging company. Brains, respectability, long and distinguished political and public services, the capacity to understand and to defend Democratic principles, and the quality of a decent self-respect—these recommendations have been of late systematically repudiated, by the knavish and venal mob whom Mr. Kerr so graphically describes, and who know how to shape all the nominations of the party for office. His strictures hold as well of the State Convention which treated his friend, Gen. CASS, with contempt, finding its "money" in another choice, as of the rabble who insulted himself in Allegheny the other day.

It is very possible that the hundreds of respectable and respected Democrats in this county who are of the same way of thinking as Mr. Kerr, may be restrained by a feeling of false pride from marking, at the polls, their more effectual reprobation of such disreputable associations and knavish management. But why should they display an attachment to mere party lines which their leading candidate has never hesitated to shake off when it suited his prejudices or his personal interests to do so?

Eighteen years ago, it is said, Mr. Asa Packer bolted and opposed Judge Campbell, the Democratic nominee for the Supreme Court, and supported Coulter, the Whig candidate, because the former was a Roman Catholic!

Fourteen years ago, it is said, the same Packer bolted the Democratic nominee for Judge, Mr. Barrett, in the Carbon and Wayne District, and united with the "Know Nothings" in the support of John S. Bell for the same office!!

Nine years ago, the same Packer bolted from the true and loyal Democracy of STEPHEN A. DOUGLASS, and supported Breckenridge, the candidate of secession and rebellion!!!

Mr. KERR and his friends, and thousands of other Democrats, of his school in tastes and ideas, who feel the same disgust which he has expressed, can judge for themselves of the real force of their partisan obligations, to support a man who has, himself, never failed to spurn such obligations, as mere ropes of sand, when his political or religious prejudices have prompted him. Of one thing, he or they,—all who are Democrats from principle and who intend to maintain their self-respect may be assured of: that as long as they vote with the rabble which overslaughs them, their indignant remonstrances are mere words not worth a rush. The rabble will continue to hoot at them, and trample on them, knowing that they dare not bolt, as Asa Packer did. This is worth their thinking about.

A COLUMBUS dispatch says:

The letter of Rosecrans causes no little comment here. It is well liked by the Republicans, who regard it as a good campaign document. The Democrats are divided, many of them not even trying to conceal their disgust at the production.

THE NEW LUNATIC HOSPITAL.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

DANVILLE, August 26, 1869.

The ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the new State Lunatic Hospital at this place was performed this morning. The location was selected by the Commissioners, Drs. Curwen, Reed and Green, after a tour of inspection extending through three weeks, and was approved in conformity to law by the Governor. The site chosen is a most delightful one, occupying a high plateau, surrounded, at considerable distances, by hills, and enclosing a landscape of singular beauty.

At eleven o'clock this morning a procession, headed by a band of music, proceeded to the spot, where the exercises were opened by prayer by the Rev. Dr. Hogson. Governor Geary then laid the corner-stone, with the customary formalities, depositing in the box a collection of papers pertaining to the special objects of the institution, together with coins, newspapers and other objects of interest. After this was finished, he delivered an address, full of energy and point, in which he depicted what the Commonwealth had done in the performance of its duties towards the afflicted and distressed, concluding with an appeal to the people of Danville to co-operate with the Commissioners and other agents appointed by the State for the attainment of the great and beneficent end in view.

The house, when completed according to the plan adopted, and approved by the Governor, will present a front of twelve hundred feet and afford accommodations for four hundred patients. The portion now under way consists of the center building and a porch on each side, which will receive when done, two hundred patients. Eighteen months must elapse before even the part now going up will be ready for occupation.

After the Governor had finished, Dr. Isaac Ray, now of Philadelphia, and formerly Superintendent of Hospitals both in Rhode Island and Maine, delivered an elaborate and highly finished address. It will shortly be given to the public in pamphlet, and prove a material addition to the stock of popular knowledge relating to the former and existing treatment of mental diseases.

Letters were read from a number of distinguished gentlemen, expressing regret at not being able to participate on the occasion. Among these were Drs. Kirkbride, of Philadelphia, Buttolph, of New Jersey, Harlow, of Maine, Tyler, Jarvis and Earle, of Massachusetts, Shew, of Connecticut, McFarland, of Illinois, and Miss Dix.

The Hon. J. M. Kirkpatrick, of Pittsburgh, was then introduced to the audience, and made an unpremeditated speech, well adapted to the occasion.

The benediction was then pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Jack, when the large concourse dispersed.

The citizens of Danville manifested a deep interest in the ceremony. By agreement all the stores were closed between the hours of ten and two o'clock, and the rolling-mills and other manufacturing establishments suspended business in order to allow their employes to participate.

This borough now contains ten thousand inhabitants, and there is much more building here this year than during any former one. The location of the Hospital here, in connection with other enterprises, has given the town a fresh start, and will add much to its size and importance.

EDITORS GAZETTE: The Weekly Post, of Saturday, contains a notice of my appointment as chairman of a Committee on Registration, for which, I presume, I am indebted to my friend, Mr. Hopkins. I have acted with the Democracy for more than forty years, dating from '28, and now consider myself entitled to a respite from active political duty. The action of the late convention in proposing to degrade me to a level with an infidel elected by Orange ruffians, by making me a half voter when all my life I have been a full voter, I consider insulting to my loyalty and disrespectful to my standing as a Democrat. I therefore decline accepting the position, as I did a seat in a convention which recognized bogus Democrats and infidels, who know not or care not for anything but money. I therefore, with all proper respect for the chairman of the County Convention, beg to be excused from active duty. I am the register in my district, and will perform the duty without fear or favor. I care for no man's politics in my official capacity. Most respectfully, of McClure township.

A COLUMBUS dispatch says: The Rosecrans letter has been the all-prevailing topic of conversation here to day. Some little of it the Democracy like, but his free, frank manner of discussing the important issues of the country are not what they like; and they express themselves as disappointed with the letter, and delighted that he declines the nomination tendered him.

The Republicans are all pleased with the letter, and regard it as a splendid campaign document. One member of Congress remarked to-day he did not know what could have been a more severe rebuke to the Democracy than this letter, and that he considered it as good a campaign document as could be prepared. Rosecrans stock is very high. to-night, and is ascending. A prominent Democratic member of the last State Senate, while here to-day, said he had taken considerable pains to look at the situation from various parts of the State, and was now willing to concede the State to the Republicans by from 10,000 to 12,000 majority.

A Look Backward and Forward.

For a period of thirty years—from 1829 to 1859—with the exception of three gubernational terms, the Democratic party held the Executive power of the State, and with the exception of three or four years, perhaps, entire control of the Legislative branch of government. During this period, including the light debt contracted previously under Democratic administrations, the State was saddled with a debt of $40,000,000, and a State tax of three mills on real estate, producing annually about $1,800,000, was levied in 1844 to pay the interest. This was purely Democratic policy. That party is fairly chargeable with the $40,000,000 debt and the $1,800,000 tax. And this is not all. They are responsible for the war of the rebellion; and being responsible for the war, they are responsible for its consequences, among which we may reckon $5,000,000, extraordinary expenses which the State was obliged to incur to enable her to act her part in the war, and subsequently a sum which will probably reach $10,000,000 to house, feed, clothe and educate the orphan children of brave soldiers and sailors who perished in combat, or died of disease or exposure in the service of their country. With these $15,000,000 the Democracy are, therefore, also chargeable, their expenditure being the legitimate fruit of the rebellion, and the rebellion being the fruit of Democratic doctrine. Carrying out these ideas, a cotemporary observes: "By the close of Governor Geary's administration, the regular State debt will have been reduced fully ten millions, and the war debt and soldiers' orphans' education expenses about eight millions, and there will remain in the State Treasury, railroad bonds of the Pennsylvania company, or guarranteed by it, some twelve millions more. Let us recapitulate.

State debt, created by Democrats..........		$40,000,000.
War debt, created by Democrats..........		5,000,000
Soldiers' orphans, created by Democrats..........		10,000,000
Total..........		$55,000,009
Paid off by ten years of Republican rule..........	$18,000,000
Railroad bonds..........	12,000,000	30,000,000
Debt unprovided for..........		$25,000,000

"The Democratic party by the act of April 29, 1844, had fastened upon the real estate of the tax-payers a State tax from which about $1,800,000 annually was realized. This was repealed by the Republican administration of February 23, 1866. The thirty years policy of the Democratic party may be summed up in fighting corporations and taxing the masses of the people. The Republicans have repealed the tax upon the masses of the people, and put it upon the great corporations that have grown up. Railroads, banks and manufacturing corporations now pay the taxes which sustain the State government. If Asa Packer should be elected, he, of course, will not like his coal and railroad corporations to be taxed as they now are under a Republican legislature. He will insist on the repeal of all this, and that the Democratic legislation of 1844, taxing real estate, should be restored."

Washington Items.

It has transpired that Gen. Canby notified the Walker party in Virginia, before the late election, that he would exact the iron-clad oath from the members elect of the Legislature, but this important fact was suppressed during the campaign. Gen. Canby has taken no action in the matter, however, and probably will not, till the course he shall pursue is decided in Cabinet meeting.

Judge Dent, it is said, has completed his letter to Postmaster General Cresswell. It is similar in tone to the one addressed to Secretary Boutwell. Dent will probably give it to the public in a day or two.

There is a rumor that the President has written a private note to Judge Dent, regretting that the letter to Boutwell was published, and deprecating the course which Dent has seen proper to pursue in order to secure his nomination in Mississippi.

At the State Department everything relating to negotiations now known to be in progress between General Sickles and the Government at Madrid is kept unusually quiet. Private letters, however, received in this city from an attache of the American Legation at Madrid, say that everything looks hopeful for the success of the negotiations, and except Serrano and his Ministers should change their minds, General Sickles hopes to be able to obtain the cession of Cuba on a basis advantageous to all parties concerned. The letter was written two weeks ago.

PACKER DISGUSTED.—Packer is alleged to have informed the cormorants who are clamoring for his money, that if he cannot be elected Governor without expending the entire fortune which he earned with the labor of his own hands and the sweat of his brow, they had better withdraw his name as a candidate. He is willing to be bled, and bled freely; but he was not prepared to suffer complete depletion. He earnestly implored them to spare him at least enough to take care of his family in case of a defeat, which he seems now to think is a foregone conclusion. "All my friends seem to think about," says he, "is my money!"

THE Shenango Valley Railroad, commonly known as the Bear Creek Road, is progressing rapidly, and about six miles of track is laid from the junction near Greenville, eastward. This road is to run from the Pittsburgh and Erie road to the mouth of Clarion river. It will traverse the northern part of Butler county, and open up a large scope of the best coal district in Western Pennsylvania.

IT is definitely arranged that a new bridge will be built across the Ohio river to connect New Albany, Ind., with Portland and Louisville. The company is composed of New York capitalists and two or three citizens of Indiana. The bridge will have three tracks—one for railroad trains, one for a street railroad and one for wagons. Its estimated cost is $1,700,000.

WORK will begin immediately on the narrow gauge track over the Erie road from Buffalo and Dunkirk to New York, and the company expect to finish it in one year. Five millions of narrow gauge bonds will be issued to pay for this work, and will have a lien upon the earnings. The project for a tunnel under the Hudson is talked of again in connection with the gauge.

A NEW ENGLANDER, residing near Cresco, Iowa, whose knowledge of rattlesnakes consisted in what he had read about them, killed one a few days ago without knowing what it was. He described it as a very pretty snake that "played a tune with his tail."

Pleasant for Milk Consumers.

A French chemist, with the aid of a microscope, has been examining into the component parts of milk. If the surface of fresh cream be examined under the lens, there is to be found, amid myriads of milky and fatty globules, a number of either round or oblong corpuscles, sometimes accompanied with finely clotted matter, being just what is seen in most substances in a state of decay. In Summer these corpuscles make their appearance within fifteen or twenty-four hours after milking; in Winter they will be perceptible after the lapse of two or three days. If the observation be continued until the moment of coagulation, these corpuscles are seen to increase in number, bud, form ramified chains, and at length to be transformed into regular mushrooms or filaments composed of cells placed end to end in simple series, and supporting at their extremities a spherical knob filled with granulous matter. The chemist thinks they may be classified among the ascophra, and that many of the gastric affections to which children are liable are owing to this state of the milk. We after all may not be so unfortunate here in New York, who receive our lacteal well diluted with aqueous fluid.

The Boat Race.

The boat used by the Harvards in the contest on the Thames, was forty-four feet long, twenty-one inches wide at the widest part, and eight inches deep; depth over all, eleven and a half inches; depth forward, seven inches, and depth aft six and a half inches. She was built on a draft and model brought from New York, and is of purely American construction; even her frame having been brought over with the crew.

The following table shows the results of eleven races over the Putney and Mortlake course, ten of them between Oxford and Cambridge, and the last that of August 27th:

THE Scranton Republican says: A good many people who are opposed to monopolies will be asked to vote for Asa Packer for Governor. This wealthy gentleman is not only President of the Lehigh Valley monopoly, but he is a Director of the Jersey Central and Morris and Essex, and thus directly interested in the dominant interests of the Lackawanna Valley. Anybody who votes for him in the hope of striking a blow at overshadowing corporate interests will commit a grievous error. If there is a man in Pennsylvania who more than another embodies the idea that the interests of consolidated capital are opposed to those of the general public and of the laboring classes, that man is Asa Packer. With him installed at Harrisburg, the railroad company would have everything its own way.

EDWIN FOREST paid his former wife $60,000 allimony due for the last eighteen years, and her lawyers bagged $56,000 of it in fees and one thing or another.

PAINLESS DIGESTION.

"No man," says Sir Astley Cooper, "ought to know by his sensations that he has a stomach." In other words, when digestion is perfect there is neither pain nor uneasiness in the region where it takes place. Nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, oppression after eating, shooting pains in the epigastrum, a flushing in the face at meal times, and a furred tongue in the morning, are among the direct symptoms of indigestion. Constipation, biliousness, headache, nervous irritability, physical weakness and low spirits, are its almost invariable accompaniments. All these indications of DYSPEPSIA, whether immediate or secondary, are usually aggravated by hot weather.

The close of summer is therefore the season when the victim of dyspepsia most urgently needs a tonic and regulating medicine. Of course, every invalid has many advisers. One friend recommends one drug, another another; but in a multitude of counsellors there is not always safety. The STANDARD REMEDY OF THE PRESENT AGE FOR INDIGESTION, in all its stages, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Time, that proves all things, has established its reputation on an impregnable foundation,—the spontaneous testimony of millions of intelligent witnesses. No acrid oil or acid defiles its stimulating principle: its tonic constituents are the finest that botanical research has yet discovered; it combines the properties of a gentle evacuant, a blood depurent, and an anti-bilious medicine, with invigorating qualities of the highest order, and is admitted both by the public and the profession to be the surest protection against all diseases that are produced or propagated by pestiferous air or unwholesome water that has ever been used either in the United States or Tropical America.

In cases of constipation, resulting from a want of muscular tone in the intestines, the effect of the BITTERS is perfectly marvellous; and without the dangerous sequences of mercury, it restores the disordered liver to a normal condition.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 28, 1869.

The Government bond market is very strong without any advance in quotations, mainly on the belief that the Secretary of the Treasury will continue to buy bonds in the same proportion as the past month; the dealings in bonds, however, are very light.

Gold quotations are maintained at about 134, with a prospect of a further rise during the earlier part of the present week. The bull party do all in their power to keep up the market, and no doubt will resort to all possible schemes the present week to get up an excitement and frighten timid bears. The report, of Napoleon's death and failing health in a greater degree have all proved a canard, likewise the riot reports, but the quotations for our bonds are lower, on a rise in gold. Both are manipulated by the same parties interested. That American bonds should decline in London and Paris is quite natural, when French rates and consols, the most staple securities on the bourse of Europe, are declining, The average quotation for the last year for French rentes was a shade below 70, and 70·75 for the last six months; in the early part of August they advanced to 73·70, and on a more excited market in Paris, on railroad securities suffering a decline from over speculation, a reaction must also be looked for in rentes, which explains the cause of our sudden advance in gold. The argument that the decline of rentes must have a political reason, was very plausable, and therefore served its purpose well.

In Stocks a general advance took place with the rise in gold, but the market is not active.

For local securities more inquiry is made, and Valley bonds are reported about 85, without being able to trace any sales a shade above 84. Our home securities would find a readier market at better rates, but the difficulty of selling them again, when money is needed, make all those except permanent investors very shy; in fact it is often difficulty to get any bid for securities when they have to be offered.

Bank stocks are quiet, although still paying good dividends, yet it is impossible to perceive how banks can earn much on legitimate business when the mercantile community has difficulty to make more than expenses, except in a few instances, Money is scarcer and advanced rates have been asked, outside of banks.

Connellsville Railroad shares are more in request at about 15 to 18; 120 might be be obtained for a small lot to parties having confidence in the early completion of the road, and a profitable business.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATUDAY, August 28, 1869.

The markets in a general way present but little that is really new or important. Business is moderately active, a little more so than it was last month, and fully as good as it is usually at this season of the year. Grain is weak and lower, in sympathy with the decline in the West, and flour is less active and, unchanged. Groceries, with the exception of sugars, for which there is a good demand, dull but unchanged. Provisions quiet, with the exception of sugar cured hams which are lower, but unchanged. All kinds of fruit and vegetables are abundant and very cheap.

APPLES—Sales at $1@3 per bbl, as to quality.

BUTTER—Sales of good to strictly prime, at 20@25.

CEMENT—Johnstown Hydraulic Cement is quoted at $2,25 per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Still quoted at 27@28 for round lots, and 29@30 in a small way.

EGGS—Unchanged at 15@16.

FEATHERS—Dull; quoted at 80@85 cents to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—Is quiet and dull, and spring wheat flours are 25 to 50 cents per bbl lower, while winter wheats are unchanged. We now quote the former at $7@7,25, and the latter at $7@7,50. There has been no arrivals of spring for some time, and as a consequence, the stock in this market is pretty well reduced.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and rather dull and the mills are asking for concessions, though we are cognizant of some sales of choice at $1,40; $1,35, however, seems to be regarded as the standard price. Oats dull and inactive—buyers and sellers apart; may be quoted at 45, bid for car load lots, and 47 asked,—sales in store at 50. Rye is in fair demand at $1,15, but above this buyers will not go. Ear corn is being sold at 95 to $1; and prime yellow, shelled, at $1,05. Sales of barley, on spot, at $1,20@1,25; future deliveries could hardly be sold at these figures.

HEMP—Very dull, $205 per ton.

HUSKS—Sales at 2¾@3 cts per pound.

LIME—White Lime is quoted at $1,50, and Cleveland at $2,50 per bbl.

LARD OIL—F. Sellers & Co. quote Extra No. 1, at 1,43, and No. 2, at $ 1,05@1,08

MELONS—Sales at $15@22 per 100, as to size, condition and quality.

POULTRY—Sales of spring chickens, at 50@55 per pair.

PROVISIONS—Market easier, and Hams are lower, We now quote as follows: Shoulders, 15¾; Ribbed sides, 18¾; Clear do, 19¾; Sugar Cured Hams, 23; Dried Beef, 22; Lard, 20½ in tierces, and 21½ in buckets; Mess Pork $34@34,50.

PEANUTS—Higher, 14½ cts.

PLUMS—Quoted at $8@9 per case, or $4,50 per bushel.

PEARS—$2@3 per bbl.

PEACHES—Sold at from $1,50 to 1,75 per box.

POTATOES—Sweets have still further declined, and we now quote at $5@5,50 per bbl for Jerseys.

SEEDS—There is nothing doing in Clover or Flaxseeds. Small sales of Timothy at $4,75.

SALT—Is quoted at $1,75 by the car load, and $2 for small lots in store.

TALLOW—Rendered quoted at 10½.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, August 28.—The business among the dry goods trade is decidedly better and in some branches very active, occasioned, partially, by low freights. The recent prevalent firmness of cotton, and the stoppage of the Philadelphia and other mills, for the want of water, &c., have an important bearing on the market, and also prices are generally steady, and there is a disposition manifest to put up the price of low priced prints ½c per yard, but it will be strenuously opposed by jobbers; heavy sheetings are firm at 16½@17c for best brands, such as Appleton A and Atlantic A; Graniteville A A is selling at 16c, and Graniteville E E at 15½c.

CHICAGO, August 28.—Cattle more active, at $3,87½@4,75 for common to fair cows, $6,00@6,37½ for fair to medium, and $6,90@7,81½ for good to prime shipping steers. Hogs firm and steady, at $8,40@8,90 for common, $9,00@9,40 for fair to medium, and $9,50@0,85 for good to choice.

ST. LOUIS, August 28—Cattle unchanged, prices ranging at 2@6½c for inferior to choice. Hogs firm; sales at 8½@10c.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Travelers in Europe and the East enjoy many more advantages now than in former years. Facilities of a high order may now be obtained, which renders a journey across the waters pleasant and agreeable. Among the excellent helps to travelers is HARPER'S HAND-BOOK FOR TRAVELERS IN EUROPE AND THE EAST, which has reached its seventh year. Instead of travelers being required to purchase twenty or thirty volumes in the English language, at a large cost, and more than double that number of books in the French language,—everything of intrinsic merit and useful to the traveler is compressed in this capital book. Mr. Fetridge, the author, resides most of the time in Europe, and carefully notes changes. Much of the matter of this edition has been re-written, and it is corrected up to May, 1868, which is two years later than any European Hand-book published. It is a compact volume, bound in flexible morocco, with maps. Everything needful for the traveler to know may be found in this book, which cannot be said of Murray's volumes. Besides giving an excellent outline through the principal cities and leading places in Europe and the East, the modes and cost of traveling are given, different routes by land or water, names and charges of hotels, proper houses to make purchases, and other important items, by which the traveler is gainer forty to fifty per cent. We most heartily commend this work to tourists, numbering legions every year from this community, as worthy of confidence, and one which cannot be excelled.

DAISY. Continued from "Melbourne House." By the author of Wide, Wide World," "Qreechy," etc, second series. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

The author of this work secured wide spread popularity by the publication of "Wide, Wide World." This simple fact itself commends "Daisy" to her numerous admirers. Without possessing the same elements of construction, it is nevertheless a delightfully told story, and happily illustrates her charming style and elevated tone. The leading character "Daisy," is well drawn, and the plot is simple and well constructed. Those who have read the first series will be gratified to read the conclusion of the story. For travelers it is a delightful companion to beguile time away.

LOVE AND LIBERTY. A Thrilling Narrative of the French Revolution of 1792. By Alexander Dumas. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia.

This thrilling romance is one of the latest creations of Dumas, the author of numerous works of fiction. The events depicted are full of interest, because they form part of a wonderful era. It is a narrative of Bèsson, of Varennes, who knew Robespierre, Danton and others of the time. The career of the former is described and the events connected with Louis and Antoinette, and also the tragic days of the Reign of Terror. It will be doubtless widely read.

QUALITY FOGG'S OLD LEDGER. Published by Henry Hoyt, Boston. For sale by Rev. J. Horner, Agent Methodist Book Store, Pittsburgh.

Few can read this touching story without having aroused the tenderest sympathies of his nature. The ups and downs os "Quality Fogg" are full of thrilling interest, and illustrate the fruits of a heart under good influences. Parts of the story relating to "David Bowles" and littie "Tommy" will be read with relish. Best of all, the story teaches wholesome lessons and such as are likely to impress the youthful reader.

OUR OWN BIRDS. A Familiar Natural History of the Birds of the United States. By William L. Bailey. Revised and Edited by Edward D. Cope, Corresponding Secretary of the Academy of Natural Sciences. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

Common place as a book of this kind may appear to some, it treats of interesting facts, relating to the birds of our own country, which ought to be known and appreciated. Youthful readers will find much to instruct, amuse, and entertain them, in its perusal. The brief account of different birds gives much valuable information, and the illustrations add very greatly to the interest of the work. We hope it will be extensively circulated, as it deserves to be, for its intrinsic merits.

A GERMAN COURSE, adapted to use in Colleges, High Schools and Academies. By George F. Comfort, A. M., Professor of Modern Languages and Aesthetics, in Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

We have been favored with advance sheets of this new work by Prof. Comfort, well known as an educator of some note, and for his kindly offices in getting up the Phylological Convention, recently held at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. After a brief cursory examination we find the work clearly indicates an advanced position in the study of German, and is excellently arranged for acquiring a thorough knowledge of the language. Prof. Comfort has incorporated the methods and principles of the best and most thorough educators in Europe and America, and the principles and features of the best minds are here moulded into a system admirably adapted to the wants of the different grades of institutions of learning. The German Course consists of four parts. Specimen pages are also given of the Teacher's Companion, as a help to teachers. The work is well suited for colleges and other schools, and is worthy to be introduced everywhere.

HOSPITAL SKETCHES AND CAMP AND FIELD STORIES. By Louisa M. Alcott. With Illustrations. Published by Roberts Brothers, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co. Pittsburgh.

These chatty sketches here reproduced, will be read with keen relish by thousands. Those relating to Hospital scenes will awaken tender interest in many a heart, and many who were occupants of them, will live over again the episodes of stern war. The "Fireside Stories" are well worth reading, in fact like everything else Miss Alcott writes, there is pathos and humor, fun and sentiment, harmoniously blended throughout. Sketches of this sort reveal the inner nature of the fair author more than in any other form, and they are calculated to touch the heart of the reader with great force. Many will thank the author for these charming sketches.

THE SEVEN CURSES OF LONDON. By James Greenwood, the "Amateur Casual." Author of "The True History of a Little Ragamuffin," etc. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

This work will cause a profound sensation for its startling facts. Mayhew has written much and well on kindred subjects, but this little volume is fresher and a more faithful portraiture of the great metropolis. The seven curses are "Neglected Children," "Professional Thieves," "Professional Beggars," "Fallen Women," "The Curse of Drunkenness," "Betting Gamblers," "Waste of Charity." All this for twenty-five cents.

HETTY. By Henry Kingsley, author of "Stretton," etc. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

This story forms a part of "Harper's Library of Select Novels." Readers of fiction will find it quite entertaining. The characters appear to be well drawn, especially the central figure.

CHARLES READE'S NOVELS. Popular Edition. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York.

Attention has been called to this excellent cheap edition of this popular novelist. It is a marvel how these volumes can be printed and sold at twenty-five and thirty-five cents each. The merits of the novels have been so frequently presented that but few of our readers need further information. The publishers have favored us with "White Lies," "Foul Play," "Love Me Little, Love Me Long." Five volumes have already been published, and the remainder of the series will soon appear.

Railway Items.

THE Cleveland Herald says: The Wabash and Lake Shore consolidation has been accomplished. The new line between the Erie road and Toledo has been abandoned. Cleveland is to be the Northwestern terminus of the broad gauge line. The Erie is to have a narrow gauge track from Buffalo to New York, and has proceeded in good faith to do that work. The agony concerning the projected rival lines in Northern and Northwestern Ohio is over.

The New York Times says: The perpetual lease of the Fort Wayne, recently concluded, practically constitutes Philadelphia and Chicago the termini of the Pennsylvania road. Following this are new or revised passenger arrangements with the Camden and Amboy and New Jersey roads to expedite travel from the West to New York. The train from Chicago and Cincinnati, that now arrives at the suburbs of Philadelphia, west of Schuylkill River, (known as the Mantua Station,) at 3:05 A. M., will hereafter arrive at 8:05 P. M., and passengers will be in New York at 11:30 P. M., in place of 6:44 A. M. as at present. The saving of time is seven hours and fourteen minutes, to accomplish which the Pennsylvania and its Fort Wayne section from Pittsburgh to Chicago, and also the Camden and Amboy, will increase their express speed. The new arrangement, besides accommodating the present Western travel and diverting via Philadelphia a portion of the travel from the Lake routes, will be, according to the North American, a signal convenience to the business men of that city in making their New York trips after the hours of business are over. Going West, the train leaving New York at 5 P. M., will arrive at Mantua at 8 P. M., and reach Chicago the following night at 11:30.

So much for the Western travel. For freight, as well as a second and more direct route of travel from New York, the Pennsylvania Company propose a junction of the New Jersey Central with their own road and its Fort Wayne extension, and the Chicago and Rock Island, making a through line to Omaha, the eastern terminus of the Union Pacific Road. This arrangement has frequently been talked of in Wall street, but this is the first avowal of the alliance between Chicago which we have seen from the headquarters of the Pennsylvania corporation. That it is entirely practicable we have little doubt, and that no more direct line across the rich prairie of Illinois and Iowa than the Rock Island could be secured, is equally probable.

THE London correspondent of the Boston Transcript says that the English mode of rowing is to sit at one side of the boat—to go forward sharply, getting the hands over the toes, and taking time to adjust the oar exactly with the blade at right angles to the water, to drop it in until the water just covers the blade, and then, with a tremendous swing, pushing with the feet and almost rising from the seat, to get in all the strength at the first part, or before the oar is at right angles with the boat, doing the last part more deliberately, keeping the arms straight until the body is perpendicular, bringing the hands to the lower part of the chest, feathering nicely, and setting forward again without hanging.

GOVERNMENT BOND PURCHASE.—One million in five-twenty bonds was purchased by the Government on the 26th inst. for the Sinking Fund, at prices ranging from 119.74 to 119.28, including $246,000 by Jay Cooke at 119.74. The total amount of the bids was $2,885,000.

A WOMAN has been arrested in Vienna for decoying young girls into her house, and then bleeding them. The blood was used by this female fiend to wash herself with, in order to preserve her beauty.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

Allegheny is rejoicing in her freedom from conflagrations. The firemen have literally nothing to do.

City morals are looking up. The lock-up was vacant yesterday and last night, a very unusual occurrence.

Coal has about reached the lowest retail figures. Consumers should note the fact and secure a winter supply.

Commitment Defective.—Wm. Einstein, who was committed to jail on Friday, on an execution attachment and capias clause issued by Mayor Drum, was released on Saturday morning by the Court, on the ground that the commitment was defective.

Local Politics in Allegheny are beginning to freshen up a little, but it is not likely any heavy work will be done until the time for the nomination is fixed by the Executive Committee. The election comes off in October this year, in accordance with a recent act of Assembly.

The Oil Men on Duquesne way take kindly to aquatic sports. On Saturday they received two new skiffs, which had been ordered a few days ago, for boating purposes. The shells, are light, and handsomely painted, and will hereafter make an attractive appearance as they glide swiftly through the waters, propelled by vigorous "rowists."

Extinguished in Time.—On Saturday morning about ten o'clock, some varnish being heated in the pattern room of the National Knife Works, 23rd street, suddenly ignited. The flames communicated to a lot of patterns and a conflagration of an extensive character seemed imminent. The Independence steamer was secured and succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any material damage was done.

Market Thieves.—Saturday morning, a lady residing in South Pittsburgh, had her pocket pook containing three dollars and some valuable papers stolen, in the Diamond Market. It is alledged that the theft was perpetrated by a boy who was distributing bills. She had her pocket book in her basket and the boy put a bill in the basket and took the pocket book out. The thief has not been captured.

He was about twenty-three years of age, five and a half feet high small black moustache, black hair, and wore dark clothes.

NEW INSTITUTION.

Establishment of a Safe Deposit Company—The Building—The Safe—The Opening.

In 1867 a number of gentlemen of the city, all capitalists, applied to the State Legislature for a charter to enable them to establish in this city—partly for their own self-protection and partly for the benefit of all monied citizens—a Safe Deposit Company. That such an institution was imperatively demanded had long been acknowledged, but as no progressive parties had moved for its establishment, the private safes of merchants and public vaults of banks and other corporations were burdened with the valuables of confiding parties, who had to run the risks and assume the liabilities of safety. The charter was of course granted when applied for, and a company embracing many of our staunchest business men was organized under it, with a very large capital and everything put in readiness for operation. It was found after some inquiry that no suitable place of safety and security could be obtained for the important business of the Company, so it was at once decided upon to erect a building of such model character as to make it not only an ornament to the city, but in reality a safe deposit, in which the powers of the crafty burglar or the vengeance of the destroying element would avail nothing. A site was selected on the broad and deep lot of ground at No. 83 Fourth avenue, and plans prepared on the most liberal scale for the erection of the building. The architectural work was entrusted to Mr. J. W. Kerr, to whose ability, skill and talent in his profession hundreds of noble structures stand to-day in all parts of the country as witness bearing monuments. In July, 1868, ground was broken and slowly the building arose to its present height and completion. It is a marvel of beauty, strength and graceful proportions which must ever prove an attraction among the architectural specimens of the city. The front is of solid cut stone, richly ornamented with arches, pillars and other devices, and surmounted by a huge money chest cut out of granite, bearing on its face under a heavy padlock the initials "S. D. C." On either side of this design is crouched a huge bull dog in the attitude of springing from the roof. The exterior of the building is certainly very chaste and yet rich and elegant, presenting a solidity which betokens great strength and durability.

The counting room occupies nearly the entire of the first floor and is approached by broad stone steps. The doors are of bronze metal, broad and heavy, and on right and left of them are windows extending almost from floor to ceiling and supplied with heavy French plate glass panes. The grandeur and elegance of the counting room cannot be described—to be appreciated the reader must himself pay a visit to it. The entire floor is artistically laid with the celebrated Minton Vitrified tiles, imported from England. It is laid in neat patterns and is as fine a specimen of such work as we have ever seen. There are three counters in the room, of pure Italian marble, paneled with bright colored slabs of Portugese and Tennessee, and resting on bases of black and white streaked French marble. These counters are all supplied on the surface, for closing them in, with tasteful gilt bronze railings which form a pretty contrast with the glistering marble. Openings or windows are made at regular intervals for the transaction of business with those on the outside. The walls and ceilings are handsomely painted and frescoed. In convienent places are marble counters with numerous partitions, whereat a number of persons can at one time be seated, for cutting coupons from bonds, examining their deposits, or any other business. The prominent feature of this apartment is the towering and massive safe, or vault which faces the the entrance, covers a space of four hundred square feet, and is ten feet in height. It has an arched roof, and its great bronzed doors and ornamented panels present an odd and magnificent appearance. It is the finest safe of the character in the United States, and is a perfect Gibraltar of strength. The doors as well as the walls and roof of the safe are constructed of several alternate plates of tough iron and steel, so heavy and so well put together as to prove impregnable to either fire or burglars. The doors are each supplied with what are technically known as five tumbler locks, combining all the improved patents held by the manufacturers of the safe, the Hall Safe and Lock Company of Cincinnati. In the interior of the great iron vault are no less than three thousand five hundred small safes, to be rented to depositors. Each of these has a distinct and different tumbler lock, with two keys. The keys are all different, no one opening two boxes. When in operation, the lock of a box given up by a depositor will be changed before being hired to any other. Notwithstanding the ample ability of the huge vault to take care of itself, to render security doubly sure, the Company propose to keep on patrol about it at all hours of the day and night at least two armed guards, deeming eternal vigilance the price of safety. In this principal vault of the establishment will be kept valuable jewelry, diamonds, important papers, wills, deeds, mortgages and bonds of all description, together with such other articles of value as demand the most careful keeping. The depositor rents one of the interior boxes and is supplied with a key to it. He has full authority, in presence of the safe guards, to at any time enter the safe and examine the contents of his box, to see that all is secure. The greatest prudence will be exercised in order to protect depositors against fraud of any description, a course rendered necessary, as the company will in most cases be responsible for the deposits. The rooms back of the safe are elegantly furnished for the business purposes of the Directors, Officers and Depositors. A large and luxurious apartment adjoining has been reserved for the use of lady depositors, where in entire privacy, they can attend to cutting off coupons from bonds or transacting any other business. In the basement a spacious fire proof room, with iron shelving and casing, has been set aside as a depository of valuable books of record, paintings, works of art, or anything else which falls under the class. Near by is another huge safe, nearly as large as the one on the first floor, for packages of valuable goods, plate and silver ware. It is rendered secure by means of steel and iron doors and double locks. A heating apparatus, methods for ventilation, and other modern conveniences. are found on this floor. On the second and third floors are well ventilated and elegant large rooms, entrance to which is gained from the street by means of a broad hall way and gently ascending stone stairs. These will be rented with care and caution for office purposes—not now being needed by the Company. From basement to roof the building is entirely fire-proof, it is constructed with iron beams throughout, there being no wooden joists or rafters in any part of the building; between the beams there are brick arches, which are all covered to a level with concrete filling.

We regret our space will not permit a lengthier description of the building, but as the officers have kindly consented to throw it open to the inspection of visitors to-day and to morrow, our readers should embrace the opportunity afforded for giving it a personal examination. It would be unjust to those who contributed towards the building should we fail to award them due credit for the manner in which they discharged their labors. These are J. W. Kerr, architect; masonry, J. L. L. Knox; brick work, Barnes & & McClelland; carpentering, A. & S. Wilson; plastering, James Blythe; painting and glazing, John Thompson & Co.; gas fitting and plumbing, Jarvis, Halpin & Co.; heating by steam, Bourne Brothers; roofing etc., John McElroy; marble work, E. Greble of Philadelphia; bronze doors, railing, etc., R. Wood & Co., Philadelphia; tile work, George F. England; vault doors, etc., of all but main vault, iron shutters, bolts, &c., Burke & Barnes; main vault, Hall Safe & Lock Co., of Cincinnati; furniture, Braun & Ostendorf; carpets, McCallum & Bro., Fifth avenue.

The following gentlemen are the officers of the Company: President—William Phillips; Vice President—Henry Lloyd; Directors—William Phillips, Henry Lloyd, William Rea, William M. Lyon, James I. Bennett, Byron H. Painter, Joseph S. Morrison, George Black, Curtis G. Hussey; Secretary and Treasurer—S. F. Von Bonnhorst.

All of these gentlemen are well known to the business community, and their association with the Company is the best guarantee that its affairs will well and prudently be managed. On Wednesday the doors will be thrown open for business and deposits received, and we feel assured a large share of patronage will be awarded the institution from the commencement, by that portion of the community who will appreciate the great advantages afforded for the safe keeping and insurance of valuable articles.

Ignorance Personified.

Notwithstanding the seemingly untiring efforts of the Mayor to make his police force effective, by "weeding out" the unworthy, the stupid and ignorant "mokes" who by some means succeeded in securing appointments on the force, there are still some men in the employ of the city, whose stupidity and ignorance totally unfit them from filling such important positions. To illustrate this fact it is only necessary to relate an incident which occurred Saturday evening, the circumstances of which are as follows: Mr. John A. Binger, a glass blower, residing in Birmingham, on Saturday morning hired a team at Swearengen's livery stable on First avenue, for which he paid the sum of six dollars, promising to return the turnout in the evening. Unfortunately however, he was not permitted to return the buggy or buck-wagon rather, as he met with an accident by which it was broken. He was on his way to the stable, and while coming down the grade on Carson street, South Pittsburgh, behind a car, pulled on the left hand track in order to pass it. It appears that a car was coming up the track a short distance ahead, and before he could pass the car on the right hand track they met, catching the buck-wagon between them, completely demolishing it. Binger escaped injury by jumping out of the buggy a moment before the collision occurred. He then took the horse to the stable and informed the livery stable keeper of what had occurred, and agreed to pay for repairing the wagon, although he siad it was an accident, and did not occur from careless driving. The man in charge of the stable requested him to remain there until he could go and see the wagon, which he did, and when he returned demanded payment for the wagon immediately. Binger informed him that he had not the money to pay him then, but could raise it in a few days. This was not satisfactory however, unless security was given. Binger could not give security unless he could see some of his friends from the South Side. The livery man then called upon Joseph Runger or Ruttger, a German, whose zeal to serve the city is not half so great as his ignorance, impudence and stupidity, who, after hearing a statement of the case, as given above, arrested Binger and marched him off to the watch house, where he was informed by Captain Graham, who was still on duty, that he had no right to make the arrest, and that there was no authority for detaining the man there a moment. By this time the livery man came in, and when asked by the Captain what charge he had against Binger, he said none, but wanted him locked up until he would give sesurity for the payment of damages incurred in breaking the buck wagon. The Captain very sensibly informed him that he had no authority to do anything of that kind, and that if he desired to hold the man on any charge, that he must first go and make information against him. This he declined to do, but requested that the man be detained until he could go and see about the matter. Capt. Graham, who knows his duty and performs it well, refused to do this, and as he was at this time relieved by Capt. Reed, left the office, the stupid, bull-headed officer in the meantime retaining the prisoner until the proprietor of the stable arrived. The case was then brought before Capt. Reed, who, after hearing the statement of the parties, decided to lock Binger up, unless he would give security as demanded; and would have done so, we presume, had not a friend of Binger's interfered. In order to adjust the matter, Col. William Gallaher, he of Roman descent, stepped in and became responsible for Binger's appearance, should he be called for. Binger was then allowed to depart.

We have only related this affair in order that the public may judge of the stupidity and ignorance of an officer who would make an arrest under such circumstances, which not only makes him liable to a prosecution for assault and battery, which in this case Buttger, whose ignorance is only exceeded by his impudence, will most likely have to answer, but also laying tha city liable to a civil action for damages. We presumt if a collector should inform Ruttger that a debtor would not pay his note, and request him to arrest and imprison him until he would give security, he would do it. Such men are not fit for officers, and the sooner the Mayor gets rid of them the better, as this is not the only instance wherein he has blundered, notwithstanding he claims to have served one term on the Washington City police force, which, we presume, was a very short one.

We have at all times condemned the practice of officers making arrests, except on view or with warrants, unless the circumstance of the case demand and warrant him in so doing.

The Alleged Embezzlement.—We stated on Saturday that Mr. Gilleland had made an information charging Robert Nelson with embezzling eight dollars. Nelson was employed as driver for the local express company of Allegheny. We are informed some difficulty has arisen as to who owns the local express, and pending the solution of this question, Mr. Nelson has deposited the amount stated in the Allegheny Savings Bank to the credit of the company, which, when the question is settled, will be paid over.

Serious Cutting Affray.

A cutting affray of a rather serious character, and which may be attended with fatal consequences, occurred Saturday night about nine o'clock, at Snyder's saloon, on Penn street, near First, at the Point, between Andrew Tiernan and Michael Gill. It appears that Gill and Tiernan and two others were in the saloon engaged in a game of cards, when a dispute arose which ended in a fight. The entire party was ejected from the saloon, when the fight was renewed on the sidewalk, and shortly afterward Tiernan called out that he had been cut, when, it is alleged, Gill ran away. Tiernan was immediately taken home, and Dr. W. H. Daly and another physician were summoned, and attended the wounded man. His injuries are very serious and, it is thought, will result fatally. Lieutenant Gordon immediately notified the Mayor of the occurrence, and His Honor, accompanied by Clerk Patterson, went to Tiernan's house and took his deposition. The deponent stated that Gill struck him several times in the face before they left the saloon, and, according to the best of his belief, cut him with a knife. About an hour after the affair Gill was arrested by officers Stevens and Youltz, and conveyed to the lockup, where he remained until yesterday morning, when he was committed to jail to await the result of Tiernan's injuries.

Fatal Accident.

An accident of a very distressing nature occurred in South Pittsburgh yesterday resulting in the death of Mena Dressler, a bright, interesting little girl, ten years of age. It appears that the brother of the girl, who resides with his father on Manor street, had a Sharp's revolver, which he left lying on the mantle in one of the rooms of thehouse, having been working with it that morning. About one o'clock the family were startled by the report of a pistol which proceeded from the room where the revolver had been left, and the father, who was in an adjoining room, ran in to ascertain the cause and found his daughter lying on the floor in the last agonies of death. Dr. Roberts was summoned immediately but the child was dead when he arrived. A post mortem examination was held, when it was ascertained that the ball passed directly through the centre of the heart. The brother is almost frantic with grief and blames himself with the occurrence, for having left the loaded pistol where she could reach it. An inquest will probably be held this morning, as Coroner Clawson left his office for his residence in the 22nd ward, a few minutes before the occurrence and will not return until this morning.

Paraffine Works Destroyed.

Saturday morning about half past two o'clock, the Paraffine Works of A. W. Bell & Co., on Fiftieth street, near the river bank, were destroyed by fire. The conflagration was occasioned by an explosion of gas, which ignited from the flames of a lantern in the hands of the still man, Mr. Thomas Clay. Mr. Clay was standing by the still at the time, but miraculously escaped with but a slight burn on his hands and face. The building was of frame, and the loss is about $500, upon which there is no insurance. The works will be put in running order immediately.

The engines which turned out in answer to the alarm from box 75, did not go into service for want of water. They were unable to reach the river for want of a roadway, and the water pipes are not yet laid in that vicinity. The Hook and Ladder Companies, however, did effective service.

The Park Question.

To-morrow, at the polls, the voters of the city will be called on to decide the question of "Park or no Park," unless Councils unwisely conclude to postpone the matter after nearly all the arrangements for the election have been made. The question is one of much importance, and should draw out a full and intelligent vote. A free public Park where all citizens can repair for pure air and innocent recreation, is an absolute necessity for the health and pleasure of any large community, and more especially to such hard working people as go to make up our population. Whether our citizens will again postpone the procurement of a proper site for such a breathing spot the vote of to-morrow will develop. Delay may cost much to the tax payers, for sooner or later the Park must come. The question is in no manner a political one, and will be decided on its own merits.

Another House Entered.

Yesterday morning, probably about one o'clock, the residence of Mr. John Hopkins, Pasture Lane, Second Ward, Allegheny, was entered by some skillful operator, who secured $50 for his trouble. He effected an entrance through an upper window by climbing over the porch. In Mr. Hopkins bed-room, the thief relieved his pantaloons of a pocket-book containing the money and valuable papers. He considerately left all but the money lying on the front door step. One of the inmates of the house heard a slight noise about one o'clock, but paid no particular attention to the matter. The chap is probably the same who has been annoying residents of Allegheny by his operations for some time past, but always manages to escape detection.

Hampton's Battery at Gettysburg.

One of the most interesting points designated and marked by Colonel Batchelder at the reunion at Gettysburg, was the corner of Sherfy's peach orchard. Here was the angle and most exposed point of General Sickles' line after he had occupied his advanced position on Thursday afternoon. It was held by Hampton's battery, commanded by Capt. Thompson, which replied with four pieces to the first guns with which Longstreet opened his assault on the left and with two pieces to a Louisiana battery in front. The battery held this exposed and important position, doing splendidly and losing heavily in men and horses, till the advance of Longstreet's lines compelled its withdrawal.

Again Postponed.

The match game between the Olympics and Atlantics for the Base Ball championship of Western Pennsylvania was interfered with for the third time, by the rain on Saturday afternoon. Two innings only were played, with the advantage in favor of the Olympics, by a score of six to two. Next Thursday afternoon has been settled upon as another attempt. The game will then be played through, weather permitting.

The Olympics contemplate having a tilt with the famous "Red Stockings" of Cincinnati, in that city, some time next week.

The "Allegheny" is practising vigorously, and will take the field for regular play some time next week.

The New Market Place.

The Fifth avenue Market question will come up before the Common Council today for final disposition. We have admitted into these columns many communications favoring the site, and as yet have to receive the first remonstrance. In view of the general expression of favor for the Fifth avenue and Miltenberger street property as the location, we cannot well see how Council can longer hesitate to act favorably on the ordinance ordering the purchase, which has already passed through the Select branch. If any action is to be taken let the people's voice be heeded quickly and at once. The location of a market house in that section of the city will materially increase the valuation of property in the neighborhood and in heavier assessments soon return in taxes the amount invested to the city. Let us have the vote on the Fifth avenue market to-day and no more delay.

Fully Organized.

At a meeting of the Marching Corps of Second Ward Geary Club Saturday night the following officers were elected for the campaign: Captain, John J. Steen; First Lieutenant, Crosby Gray; Second Lieutenant, John F. Hunter; O. Searg't, Jos. Haymaker; Color Searg't, Geo. Neemes. The corps propose turning out one hundred strong on Wednesday evening in full uniform, together with the gun squad of twenty disciplined artillerists with the fine brass six pounder belonging to the ward, in order to receive with honor Senator O. P. Morton, and escort him to City Hall, where the grand Republican ratification meeting is to be held. The Second ward has set good example in the work of reorganization for the campaign, and we trust it will be generally followed by the other districts.

New York Circus.

The first representation of Lent's Circus Company, from the Hippotheatron in Fourteenth street, New York, will take place on the Diamond in Allegheny City, this afternoon, commencing at 2½ o'clock. Ladies and family parties who dislike mixing in a crowd will find the day exhibitions of this troupe fully as brilliant and diversified as these given at night, while the probability of obtaining good seats will be much greater. Unless the establishment has been greatly overrated by the press of other cities, the performances of the New York Circus will be found far in advance of anything of the kind hitherto presented in this vicinity. It appears to be generally conceded that the entertainments of this troupe are of a more refined character than those of ordinary travelling shows, and therefore its advent is anticipated with interest by many who seldom visit exhibitions of horsemanship.

The Cresson Mountain House.

This delightfully situated mountain resort, within a few hours' ride from the city, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, continues in successful operation, and the season may be regarded as now at its full height. Nearly four hundred guests yet remain, affording most excellent society. There is a brass band in constant attendance and fashionable hops are held each evening. The mountain weather at no season of the year is more delightful than through September, and those of our friends who have not yet enjoyed a summer vacation should embrace the opportunity of being present at the Mountain House during the continuance of the season, as a vast fund of enjoyment is in store for them.

Burglars About.—Saturday morning about three o'clock, Mr. George S. Wood, a grocer on Carson street Birmingham, was aroused from his slumbers by an unusual noise in his bed room on the second floor of the building and springing out of bed found a man in the room who made his escape through a window at the back of the house, through which it was afterwards ascertained he had entered by means of a ladder. Mr. Wood after securing the services of a watchman started in search of the burglar and succeeded in finding a man lying a sleep in the yard of McKee's glass house, whom they conducted to the Birmingham lock-up, where he awaits a hearing.

Mr. A. H. Logan, a well known oil dealer of this city, sailed on Saturday, from New York, for Paris, where he proposes spending the winter for the benefit of his health.

CLEMENT TETEDOUX.

And the End is not Yet.

It affords us more than ordinary pleasure to announce with the return of each week the new favor which the Great American Button Hole and Combination Family Sewing Machine is finding in this neighborhood. The merits sf this great machine, which far surpasses all others in point of simplicity in construction, durability and range of work, are becoming daily more appreciated, and nearly everybody who wants to purchase gives it the preference. Mr. James Espy, the enterprising agent, reports the following additional sales for the past week, to all of whom he can refer as to excellence of the machine:

Mrs. James McKnight, Chartiers township.
Miss Annie Kennedy, Temperanceville.
Miss Mary B. Scott, Banksville.
Mrs. Mary Fleming, Banksville.
Mrs. A. Daker, Sligo.
Mrs. John Nichols, Sligo.
Mrs. David Lloyd, Port Perry.
Mrs. David Evans, Sligo.
Mrs. Martha Scott, Saltsburg.
Mrs. Julia Wentzel, Temperanceville.
Mrs. Nancy J. Gittings, Shalerville.
Mrs. Mary Wencel, Lower St. Clair.
Mrs. James H. Edwards, South Pittsburgh.
Mrs. Jos. McKee, Temperanceville.
Mrs. Wm. Taylor, Mt. Washington.
Mrs. Thos. Grundy, Mt. Washington.
Mrs. Chas. Weily, Mt. Washington.

Mr. Espy, whose office is at the corner of Market street and Fifth avenue, has just introduced a new style American Combination Family Machine, with cover, equal in every respect to the best, except it will not work button holes, which he offers at a very reasonable price of sixty dollars each. Readers will consult their best interests by calling on Mr. Espy, before purchasing any other machine. There is no charge made for showing the machines and what they will accomplish.

Pretty Women.—A comparatively few Ladies monopolize the Beauty as well as the attention of Society. This ought not to be so, but it is; and will be while men are foolish, and single out pretty faces for companions.

This can all be changed by using Hagan's Magnolia Balm, which gives the Bloom of Youth and a Refined sparkling Beauty to the Complexion, pleasing, powerful, and natural.

No Lady need complain of a red, tanned, freckeled or rustic Complexion who will invest 75 cents in Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its effects are truly wonderful.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Katharion. MWFF.

Figured Grenadines.—Bates & Bell offer Silk Grenadines for 50c, worth 75c. All Granedines proportionably cheap.

Postponed.—In consequence of the Allegheny Diamond being preoccupied, the Temperance and Reform meeting which was to be held there this evening, will be postponed for one week.
